Chiron Publications announces release of Faith, Forensics, and Firearms - A Spiritual Psychoanalysis of Three Forensic Trauma Cases

(September 25, 2018 - Asheville, NC) Chiron Publications is pleased to announce the release of Faith, Forensics, and Firearms, by Charles Zeiders, PsyD.

When one seeks civil redress for trauma, even a favorable outcome will not likely heal the heart of a plaintiff who has been raped, beaten, humiliated, violated, or treated unjustly. Forensic psychology analyzes human behavior as it applies to the law. The forensic psychologist establishes the merits of a case, then writes a report.

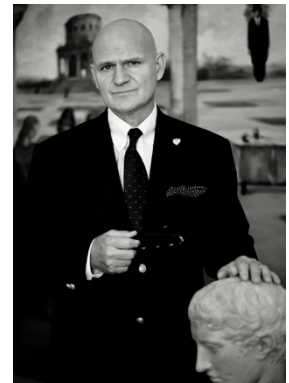

Faith, Forensics, and Firearms presents three such cases, providing the author's forensic analyses and exploring the professional, spiritual, and sociopolitical issues involved from the viewpoints of depth psychology and Christian spirituality.

- A student's contested application to own a firearm
- The rape of a patient's wife and the violent death of their son
- The assault of an African American mother by plainclothes police after they refuse to cease harassing her children

"Charles Zeiders's book is a well-grounded exploration of matters of psychological and spiritual urgency afflicting victims of crime. It is an enormously important contribution on the part of forensic psychology toward addressing the needs of the soul among people who seek to recover fully from severe trauma."
—Murray Stein, PhD, author of Soul – Treatment and Recovery
